Spay and Neuter Awareness Month

There are many health benefits to spay/neuter. Females are at less risk for infections of the reproductive tract and mammary tumors. Males will not develop testicular tumors and will be less prone to prostate and associated urinary problems.

Cats, in particular, will have less exposure to fatal diseases such as feline leukemia and the feline AIDS virus if they are spayed/neutered.

Behavior problems are lessened when a pet is spayed or neutered. Males tend to exhibit fewer testosterone-driven behaviors, such as urine marking, aggression and roaming. Females are less likely to fight

Obviously, your pet will not be able to reproduce, helping to control the ever growing and unwanted pet population.

Pets of the Month

Hello. My name is Diesel. I am 4 years old.

*I very active, playful, friendly, affectionate, and love to be by your side.

*I have hip dysplasia, so I would do best in a home with older kids and no other dogs.

*I am a well trained pup that loves attention.

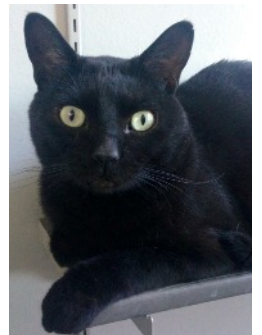

Hello. My name is Manny. I am 3 years old.

* I love to talk to everyone!

*I am very friendly and love to get a lot of attention.

*One of my favorite activities is going outside and chasing my shadow in the catio.
